The school’s Gateway to Excellence campaign raised more than $2.5 million from friends and alumni.
Dear Friends of UNM,

I am pleased to announce to the University of New Mexico community that the UNM Foundation raised more than $90 million for the University in fiscal year 2008-09. Despite the troubled economy and everyone’s intent to do more with less, this announcement marks another record in a long line of records. This fall the Foundation marks its first full year as an independent non-profit organization. I am again impressed with what it has accomplished in that short time. Special thanks go to the UNMF Board of Trustees, UNMF President John Stropp and the outstanding team of UNMF fund raisers and support staff who keep things moving smoothly day after day.

Without a doubt this concerted effort could not succeed without you, our supporters. Since the University receives only 18.5 percent of its budget from state sources, we depend on the generosity of public-spirited donors to fulfill our challenging mandate in service to the people of New Mexico. It requires a monumental collaborative effort on the part of all members of the UNM community to ensure that the University continues to pioneer new frontiers of educational excellence, opportunity, research and medicine. A very warm thanks goes to our faculty and staff for their amazing accomplishments in all these realms, and I likewise honor the friends and alumni who underwrite these vital initiatives. Together, you support the very heart and soul of UNM – our students.

So let me take this opportunity to say again how much it means to have you with us. UNM is a precious resource for the people of New Mexico. I am keenly aware of the responsibility that comes with leading this institution and have committed myself to making it all it can be for the benefit of those it serves. Your partnership is essential to this purpose. We couldn’t do it without you, and I want you to know how grateful I am for your commitment to our high mission.

With profound appreciation,

David J. Schmidly, President
University of New Mexico
Since 1979 the UNM Foundation has been working to secure the funding needed for the University of New Mexico’s critical mission as the state’s flagship institution of higher education. In marking this 30th anniversary, we have much to celebrate. The most recent—and certainly most unlikely—cause for cheer in this saga of three decades took place this past year. Despite the poor economy, we are happy to report that we more than held our own on the fund-raising front. Thanks to you and other generous partners, in fiscal year 2008-09 the Foundation surpassed all previous records by bringing in $90 million to support a multitude of educational programs, research efforts and health care services at the University.

To that we can add another landmark. As you might imagine, given the economic climate, the value of our endowment declined. Nevertheless, with careful management and policy setting, the Foundation distributed $15.2 million from our Consolidated Investment Fund to meet crucial University funding priorities, a remarkable 7.8 percent increase over the prior year.

Such extraordinary achievements reflect the commitment of extraordinary citizens, and you are one of the nearly 17,000 people who made these feats possible. We gratefully count you among the faithful friends who, during lean financial times, stepped forward to lend a hand to the University that serves them.

We can’t thank you enough for this. We hope you know what a difference your giving makes to the growing number of students UNM educates, the frontline faculty research it sponsors and the ever expanding number of patients it cares for at the Health Sciences Center. We hope you also know that, through helping UNM do these things, you are contributing significantly to the civic health and economic well-being of our beautiful state.

As we move into the Foundation’s 31st year to take on the challenges that lie ahead, we look forward to continuing our partnership with you. Meanwhile, with much appreciation we wish you success in your own endeavors!

Consolidated Investment Fund FY 2008-09

The University Of New Mexico Board of Regents has delegated authority to the UNM Foundation Investment Committee to oversee and manage the endowment assets of the University and the Foundation. The pooled assets are combined for investment purposes and operated as a unitized pool known as the Consolidated Investment Fund (CIF).

The CIF is managed in accordance with the CIF Endowment Investment Management Policy, which is approved by both the UNM Foundation Board of Trustees and the UNM Board of Regents.

FY 2008-09 was an extremely difficult year for all investment markets. The CIF finished the year with a market value of approximately $259 million, a decline of 20.5 percent when compared to the previous fiscal year. This return compares favorably with those for the overall market and peer institutions. Investment returns were down in all asset classes of the CIF with the exception of the fixed income portion of the portfolio which returned +3.1 percent. In the CIF portfolio U.S. equities and international equities posted returns of -24.0 percent and -30.0 percent, respectively, for the fiscal year; both these return rates, although disappointing, were superior to their respective overall market returns. The marketable alternatives provided some downside protection, declining in value by only 8.6 percent for the fiscal year. In addition to the customary investment management expenses, a development funding allocation of 1.15 percent of the market value was allocated from each participating fund in the CIF for 2008-09 to meet operational expenses.

The Foundation recognizes the need to provide a steady and reasonably predictable stream of income while protecting the real value of the principal of the endowment and has therefore adopted a spending policy that is based on a 12 quarter moving average and a distribution rate of 4.65 percent for FY 2008-09, which provided approximately $15.2 million in funding for the various schools, colleges and programs that benefit from the endowment program.
SIBLINGS TEAM UP TO SHARE SUCCESS

Albers Partner with College of Nursing to Enhance Midwifery Program

Family ties are strengthened in many ways. Some families withstand great hardship, bringing members closer together. Others are brought closer through shared moments of joy. The Albers family developed closer ties through mutual success, support and philanthropy.

Paul and Leigh Ann Albers have recognized Paul’s sister, Dr. Leah Albers, certified nurse midwife, and the importance of midwifery by establishing the Leah L. Albers Endowed Professorship in Midwifery at UNM’s College of Nursing. Dr. Albers is excited about the presentations the professorship has sponsored already and looks forward to seeing future advancements made possible by the professorship.

In February, two midwifery research professors, Drs. Della Forster and Helen McLachlan from LaTrobe University in Melbourne, Australia, came to the UNM Health Sciences campus in one of the first events sponsored by the professorship. Forster and McLachlan led presentations, teaching/consultation sessions and an all-day continuing education seminar with various UNM faculty and staff groups.

“These activities were sponsored by the professorship in the interest of international research collaborations and research dissemination, and would have not been possible without the professorship,” says Dr. Albers. “These kinds of activities bring fresh ideas to research and practice in maternity care here in New Mexico.”

“The exceptional legacy of an endowed professorship will perpetuate Dr. Albers’ teaching and research,” says College of Nursing Dean Nancy Ridenour. “What an inspirational partnership this is for a place where midwifery traces its roots to the very beginning of this great state. Today we can take pride in a midwifery program that is ranked number three in the nation. Midwives attend about one-third of all births in New Mexico, and the Albers’ generous investment will bring a successful life start for our youngest citizens, our most promising partners for the future.”

Leigh Ann and Paul Albers honor Paul’s sister, Dr. Leah Albers, with an endowed Midwifery Professorship.
Dr. Brian K. Hansen doesn’t know when to stop questioning. During his entire career in theater, he has asked himself and his colleagues, “Why do we get dressed up, smear makeup on our faces, and dance around on a platform generation after generation?”

His search to define the “selective pressures” that keep the arts alive eventually led him to the UNM Anthropology Department, where he became host to “the best kind of parasite”: the theories of evolutionary anthropology. “Evolutionary theory explains so much,” he says, “and it amazes me that areas that are relatively theory-free, like theater, don’t embrace it.”

A former chair of the UNM Department of Theatre and Dance, Dr. Hansen has established a planned estate gift that will benefit both that department and the Department of Anthropology. The Brian Hansen Endowed Scholarship in Theatre will support undergraduate or graduate students in the College of Fine Arts. The Hansen Family Fund will endow a fellowship for graduate students researching the evolution of behavioral ecology in humans or primates.

When Dr. Hansen arrived at UNM in 1979, he met several colleagues who found his questions about the arts and human evolution worthy of deeper study. However, he found those people in anthropology, psychology and biology, not in theater. He began enrolling in anthropology courses and was hooked. “Every culture, past and present, has the arts,” he says. “Why? That question is not asked often enough or rigorously enough in this country.” He hopes an interdisciplinary approach to studying the arts can begin to change that.
COLLABORATING CHANGE FOR CHILDREN

Credit Union Association Raises Funds for Pediatric ER

A child lies weak and ill in her mother’s arms as a nurse rushes a bleeding man through the ER. Sitting nearby is an intoxicated, unconscious woman. Law enforcement escorts an inmate through the area. The mother waits—and worries.

But that was five years ago. Today, the UNM Children’s Hospital Pediatric Emergency Unit (Peds ER) has eliminated this once common scenario for New Mexico families. The Peds ER, which opened in 2007, was funded in part by a $1 million fund-raising effort spearheaded by the Credit Union Association of New Mexico (CUANM).

The CUANM’s five-year commitment, which ends this calendar year, raised money to help transform the Peds ER into a state-of-the-art medical center for children. The Peds ER is now equipped with six IV pumps, two syringe pumps, two breast pumps and 14 centralized wireless monitors. Each of the unit’s 12 treatment rooms is outfitted with suction, compressed air and oxygen. Doctors and staff now have immediate access to pediatric medication, supplies, storage and, of course, toys. Although nobody wants to take their child to the hospital, the Peds ER offers an environment conducive to the welfare and healing of children.

“It is gratifying to see the creative ways our participating credit unions raised money to help their community,” says CUANM Chief Executive Officer Sylvia Lyon. “We are grateful for the opportunity to make a real difference at the hospital and in the lives of New Mexico children.”

CHASING DREAMS, REACHING ACHIEVEMENT
Couple Offers Anderson Students Non-Traditional Support

Dreams pursued with a partner carry great potential for success. Ken and Eileen Fridline were daunted as adults trying to complete college one or two classes at a time. Their journey was long and challenging, but they found comfort and support in one another. Eileen celebrated her graduation from UNM’s Anderson School of Management (ASM) by creating a bequest to endow scholarships for non-traditional students at ASM. She and Ken hope the gift will encourage future generations of business students to pursue their dreams of education.

“An education provides the foundation for a lifetime of opportunities and a greater depth of knowledge to enrich your life,” says Ken, a former U.S. Marine and retired supervisor for the Quality Assurance Directorate of Kirtland Air Force Base. Eileen, a trained secretary and health insurance broker, continues, “We were established in successful careers, but wanted the experience and knowledge provided by a college education. We hope this gift provides incentive for other non-traditional students to pursue their dreams even if it takes a little longer.”

“Eileen and Ken recognized the value of higher education and decided to complete their degrees at a time in their life when most people would turn to easier pursuits,” explains ASM Dean Douglas M. Brown. “That same courage and selflessness has guided the Fridlines to make an unforgettable gift to help other non-traditional learners. Future students will have new scholarship support, and they will have Eileen and Ken’s remarkable story to guide them.”

The UNM Foundation and the Anderson School of Management were saddened to hear of the death of Eileen Fridline on Sept. 30, 2009.

PARTNERING WITH LOBO FANS

Planned Gift Offers New Opportunities for Academic Success

In the late 1970s, when the UNM men’s basketball team blazed through one victory after another, Jim and Nancy Fisher followed the team with a fervency unmatched by any American Idol fan today. Colorado, Wyoming, Hawaii—no distance was too great to keep the Fishers out of the bleachers, cheering on the Lobos who proved their championship spirit again and again. After the Fishers’ business reached a successful maturity, they purchased their own plane, which enabled, among other things, their addiction to Lobo basketball and football.

The Fishers have made a planned gift to UNM athletics that caps more than a quarter-century of devotion and support. Their charitable remainder trust will fund an endowment to help Lobos achieve greater academic success and complete their degrees. UNM student-athletes can play for four years. If they don’t graduate within that time, their eligibility for scholarship assistance expires. That’s when financial assistance like the Fishers’ kicks in.

“Besides being huge Lobo fans, Jim and Nancy genuinely care about providing opportunities for student-athletes at UNM,” says Larry Ryan, associate director of development for athletics. “There are many ways to give financially to UNM athletics, but an estate gift of this size will have a tremendous impact on our department and on student-athletes for many years to come.”

“It’s not just watching a game,” Jim says. “It’s the whole involvement with the department that we like. We’re very impressed with the athletic programs and the quality of the people.”

ANNOUNCEMENT HERALDS PARTNERSHIP
Endowment Supports Guest Lecturers from the Construction Industry

On May 7, after a guest lecture in UNM’s Centennial Engineering Center, attendee Bryant (Bill) W. Lemon, Jr., president of BRYCON Construction, announced the creation of an endowed fund to honor BRYCON’s founder, Bryant W. Lemon, Sr.

The endowment, Bill said, will permanently support a lectureship in the Construction Engineering and Management Program within UNM’s Civil Engineering Department, and is a gift from the owners of BRYCON. The audience reacted with approval, delight and surprise. But no one’s reaction topped that of Bryant Sr., who was “astounded” by the news.

A year ago, Bill spoke with his mother, Peggy Lemon, about honoring the company via a gift to UNM as a surprise for his father. Bryant was aware that a gift was in the works, but didn’t know the Bryant W. Lemon Sr. Distinguished Lecture in Construction Engineering and Management would bear his name. To the owners, BRYCON and UNM seemed a natural fit—despite the fact that none of the Lemon family are UNM alumni.

“UNM has supported us in a big way,” Peggy says. “We’ve hired several UNM graduates. Construction is an honorable profession, and we wanted to do something that might interest young people in looking into it. Also, we wanted to publicize and support the engineering and construction program.”

Bryant founded BRYCON Construction in 1990. Through his leadership, it grew into a company with approximately 500 employees, offices in New Mexico and Arizona, and contracts nationally and worldwide.

“It is our strong belief at BRYCON that as business leaders we must take an active part in promoting our industry,” Bill says. “I encourage other construction-related companies to seek ways to help build a stronger, better prepared workforce. We cannot sit idly by and assume that industry needs will be taken care of by others. We all should get involved and do something great for our profession.”

Established by the UNM Board of Regents to assist STC.UNM, which protects faculty inventions and transfers them to the commercial marketplace.

Don Stevens Endowed Scholarship
Established by Michael and Mary Dickson to honor legendary New Mexico architect Don Stevens, a senior principal of Stevens Mallory Pearl & Campbell Architects (SMPC Architects).

The Surface Family Endowed Research Faculty Support Fund
Established by the Trustees of the Surface Family Trust to establish a series of endowed chairs and non-endowed professorships focused on conducting state-of-the-art cancer research at the UNM Cancer Center and School of Medicine.

UNM Los Alamos HED Endowment
Established to support UNM-Los Alamos faculty development and student financial aid.

HOW TO ESTABLISH AN ENDOWED FUND
An endowed fund is a gift that lasts in perpetuity. It continues to provide support to the University in the areas of the donor’s interest. Endowed funds may support student scholarships, faculty, the general needs of the University or any school, college or program within the University.

Donors may fully fund an endowment with a one-time lump-sum gift; fund it over a three-year pledge period or through a bequest or other deferred gift. Endowment minimums vary by purpose, so please contact us for more specific information.

In addition to cash, donors may establish endowed funds through any gift vehicle recognized by the UNM Foundation, including gifts of securities or real property, planned gifts, by pooled gifts from a group of friends, with memorial contributions or through continuing gifts to endowment accounts. Donors may help develop guidelines for how their endowments are to be governed and used.

For information on establishing an endowed fund, contact any college or school development officer (see page 28) or the UNM Foundation office at www.unmfund.org or (505) 277-4503.

THE POPEJOY SOCIETY

Established by the University of New Mexico Foundation, the Tom L. Popejoy Society recognizes the extraordinary support and commitment of a singular group of donors who want the University to realize its full potential for greatness.

Tom L. Popejoy never did anything halfway, from his game-winning field goal against arch-rival Arizona in 1924 through 40 years in UNM administration. His 20 years as president, a time fondly known as the Popejoy Era, capped a career that made him a UNM legend.

The first Tom Popejoy Society dinner was May 26, 1982. Now, 27 years later, this prestigious society has grown to more than 480 members who represent all aspects of the University of New Mexico, its programs, and most importantly, its students.

The Popejoy Society honors individual donors based on cumulative giving to the University of New Mexico through the UNM Foundation Inc. The current threshold for membership is $50,000.

For more information concerning the Popejoy Society, please contact Rich Grainger at rgrainger@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9077.

JOIN THE NEW HORIZONS SOCIETY

The University of New Mexico Foundation would like to recognize all donors who have included the University in their estate plans or who have made other types of planned gifts. Members receive an invitation to an annual luncheon event.

A planned gift may take the form of a bequest intention in a will or living will, an IRA or retirement account beneficiary designation, a life insurance or other beneficiary designation, a gift annuity, a charitable remainder trust or other arrangements.

New members of Lobo Legacy, a planned giving program for UNM Athletics, are indicated by a * in the following listing.

For more information about making a planned gift or joining the New Horizons Society, please contact Bart Evans, director of planned giving, at bevans@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9604.

UNM’S ANNUAL FUND

Most alumni and friends give to the UNM Foundation through the outreach efforts of the Annual Giving Office. The Annual Fund is an integral part of the University’s overall fund-raising efforts.

The Annual Fund has a goal of encouraging friends and alumni to participate and raise monies to support the University’s highest priorities. These annual gifts allow the flexibility to respond to the educational environment we so cherish. The impact of your generosity is very much real for deserving students, faculty and programs.

More than just a collection of gifts, the Annual Fund is a catalyst for turning individual generosity into a collective energy. It represents the dynamic interaction of people partnering together to achieve great things at UNM.

With your continued support, the UNM Annual Fund remains a steadfast resource of tremendous financial value for many years to come. Thank you!

PRESIDENTIAL SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

The Presidential Scholarship Program’s (PSP) goal is to attract and keep the state’s best students at the University of New Mexico for their college education. Presidential Scholarships are awarded to New Mexico high school seniors based on a minimum 3.5 grade point average, class rank, college board scores, personal essays, leadership and community involvement. Scholars come from a wide range of economic and social backgrounds and represent every ethnic group in New Mexico. Each year nearly 125 incoming UNM freshmen receive Presidential Scholarships. The scholarships are renewable for eight consecutive semesters as long as the recipient maintains program standards of a 3.0 GPA and completes 15 credit hours per semester. More than 485 UNM students benefit from the PSP at any given time.

Currently, sponsoring one student requires a $2,000 annual gift, which UNM matches and increases up to a $6,600 award per student per year. Endowing a scholarship requires a $30,000 one-time gift. Donors may also participate in the PSP through the “share-a-scholar” program by making a gift of any size to the PSP. Full sponsors of the program are invited to the PSP Annual Celebration Dinner each spring to meet the student recipients of their generosity.

During the 2008-09 fiscal year, donors contributed approximately $650,000 to the program. This year more than 160 individuals and organizations made full sponsorship gifts to the PSP, and almost 20 percent of those donors are former Presidential Scholars or their parents.

For FY 2008-09, Mark Hartman served as the volunteer chair of the Friends of the Presidential Scholarship Program. For FY 2009-10, he will continue to serve as chair. A PSP designation in this report identifies full sponsors during FY 2008-09.

CHERRY & SILVER SOCIETY

Established in July 2004, the Cherry & Silver Society represents a group of the University’s most loyal supporters—alumni who give to UNM a minimum of once each calendar year following graduation. The decision to financially support the University is the most important factor for Cherry & Silver Society membership.

New graduates have 24 months from their graduation date to make their first gift to the school, college, program or scholarship of their choice. Alumni support makes a significant difference in the quality of students, faculty and programs at UNM.

Amir Wodajo, Class of 2004, serves as the volunteer chair of the Cherry & Silver Society. Members of the society in this report are designated with a 🌞 symbol. More information is available on the “Giving” tab at www.unmfund.org.

THE PRESIDENT’S CLUB

UNM President David Schmidly states, “The University of New Mexico’s motto, ‘Light is the life of man’ bids us to enlighten all who are part of the UNM family—students, faculty, staff and the community at large. The President’s Club is a means to move our motto into action.”

President’s Club donations invigorate new and unique undergraduate student success programs at UNM with initial funding. It is our hope that these programs will follow in the steps of the Freshman Learning Communities and the Fred Harris Washington D.C. Congressional Internship program by becoming self-sufficient.

Members of the President’s Club currently contribute a minimum annual gift of $5,000 to UNM with at least $2,500 of the gift allocated to the President’s Fund for Undergraduate Student Success. Donors may designate the remainder to any University program, college or school, student scholarships or other activities.

This year, two initiatives are being supported through the President’s Club. The Talk Radio News internship gives students an opportunity to learn alongside broadcast and news media journalists covering Congress, the White House and executive agencies in Washington D.C. The second, Conexiones Veracruz, is an intense cultural study-abroad program that offers students unique field experience in Mexico, investigating how Africans, Spaniards, and Indigenous People came together to create one of the most fascinating cultural mixes in our hemisphere.

President’s Club members receive quarterly reports and special event invitations from the President’s Office to keep them informed of what is occurring at UNM and how their donation is making a difference for students involved with these programs.

For more information regarding the President’s Club and current initiatives, please contact Rich Grainger at rgrainer@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9077.

COLLEGES AND PROGRAMS

DEAN’S CIRCLES

Dean’s circles receive gifts in support of specific programs or initiatives within schools and colleges. Membership and gift threshold vary by school, college and program. Members of these groups who gave $5,000 or more in fiscal year 2008-09 are included in the donor listings in this report. Members of these groups who gave $1,000 or more in fiscal year 2008-09 are included in the donor listings online, which can be found at www.unmfund.org.

Anderson School of Management

The Anderson School gives special recognition, through publications and annual events, to Anderson Circle members. The Anderson Circle includes all individuals and companies that donate $1,000 or more annually to advance Anderson goals. In addition, the Anderson School’s Foundation Board serves as a fund-raising arm for Anderson and as a bridge between the business community and the Anderson School’s future business leaders. The Dean’s Inner Circle is an elite group of donors who commit to a minimum of $5,000 per year for three years in order to advance special initiatives in business education and leadership. For information, please contact Ernest Rodriguez-Naaz, constituent development officer, at enaaz@unmfund.org or (505) 277-7114.

School of Architecture and Planning

The Council for Design and Planning Excellence is a member-driven organization dedicated to promoting and supporting the school’s mission. Individual and corporate council members contribute knowledge and expertise to advance the goals of the school, the larger community and the state. Council members reflect the diversity of interest in both the process of design and planning and the importance of design quality. Annual Council memberships—Benefactor, $2,500; Corporate, $1,000 and Individual, $500—provide funds that enhance the educational experience of our students and support emerging needs such as faculty-directed student travel. For information, please contact Jan Bandrofchak, constituent development officer, at jbandrofchak@unmfund.org or (505) 277-6442.

College of Arts and Sciences

The Dean’s Circle recognizes the extraordinary individuals, foundations and corporations who make an annual contribution of $1,000 or more to support the College of Arts and Sciences. These members strengthen the college and its service to students, faculty, staff and the community by funding cutting-edge research, innovative programs and lectures, student financial aid and faculty development. For information, please contact Bill Uher, constituent development officer, at buher@unmfund.org or (505) 277-3841.

Athletics

The Lobo Club is “The Team Behind the Teams,” the branch of the UNM Athletics Department responsible for raising funds for athletic scholarships. Lobo Club members, through their support, are investing in the futures of our student-athletes and the future of your New Mexico communities. Lobo Club members have helped to create a tradition of success at UNM. Their contributions supply our student-athletes with the resources necessary for success in both the classroom and competition. Individuals and businesses who support more than 400 Lobo student-athletes competing in 21 sports at UNM are identified in this report with a symbol. For information, please contact David Sabolcik, assistant athletics director, development/Lobo Club executive director, at sabolcik@unmfund.org or (505) 925-5900.

College of Fine Arts

The Dean’s Circle welcomes donors who support the college through an annual contribution of $1,000 or more. Gifts to the Dean’s Circle support the strategic direction, both academic and artistic that Dean James Linnell has set for the college. Supporting this vision impacts the faculty, staff and students of our college. For information, please contact Sandra Koson, development coordinator, at skoson@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9377.

KNME-TV

KNME’s Leadership Circle donors provide unrestricted support for New Mexico’s flagship public television station. Gifts support local and national programming as well as educational services in the community. Those who give $1,000 or more annually are recognized at the Associate Level. This giving category corresponds to Dean’s Councils at the University’s schools.
School of Law

This Dean’s Circle provides special recognition, greater access and involvement for donors who consistently give $1,000 or more each year. Our goal is to let our generous and committed donors know that their gifts fundamentally enhance our ability to provide excellent and dynamic legal education in the state of New Mexico. For information, please contact Hannah Farrington, director of development, at hfarrington@unmfund.org or (505) 277-1038.

Health Sciences Center

UNM Cancer Center

El Oso de Salud, The Healing Bear, is a Native American symbol of responsibility, leadership, teaching and healing. The University of New Mexico Cancer Center has chosen El Oso de Salud as our symbol because we are committed to serving with strength, courage, grace and great ability those affected by cancer. El Oso de Salud Society recognizes individuals, corporations and foundations that make outright and planned philanthropic contributions of $1,000 or more annually. For information, please contact Patt Cain, constituent development officer, at pcain@unmfund.org or (505) 272-1048.

UNM Children’s Hospital

The Circle of Friends includes donors who are dedicated to building and supporting the only children’s specialty hospital in New Mexico. Private support is essential to provide the best medical care for New Mexico’s children, build leadership in research, and educate tomorrow’s health care providers. Private, foundation or corporate gifts at annual giving levels of $1,000 to $10,000+ qualify to participate in the Circle of Friends program. Gifting at any level allows gifts to be unrestricted, designated to a specific unit, project or program. For information, please contact Joanne Branyon-Ward, associate director of development, at jbranyon-ward@unmfund.org or (505) 277-8413.

College of Medicine

La Tierra Sagrada Society is a philanthropic society of the UNM School of Medicine (SOM) whose mission is to promote the excellence of the SOM and to provide financial assistance, fellowship and volunteerism through membership. The society is dedicated to providing scholarships for selected medical students and funding for deserving community partnership grants that involve UNM faculty, staff and medical students. Some of these exceptional programs and cutting-edge research projects have the potential to impact health and health care across the campus, the local community, the nation and the world. The number of grants and scholarships selected depends on the total gifts through annual-member giving. For information, please contact Harriet Bull, director of development and alumni affairs, at hbull@unmfund.org or (505) 272-3657.

College of Nursing

The Nightingale Society, established in 2004, honors individuals, corporations and foundations for their important annual contributions of $1,000 or more. These gifts help the college address the nursing faculty shortage, teach more nurses, lead the way in more research projects, reach more communities and offer better care to all New Mexicans. Working together, we are creating brighter futures for people close to home and around the globe. For information, please contact Rosemary Gregory, constituent development officer, at rgregory@unmfund.org or (505) 272-0200.

College of Pharmacy

Created in 2003, the Dean’s Papiani Giving Circle recognizes individual donors—alumni and friends—who give annual gifts of $1,000 or more to the College of Pharmacy. Gifts to this unrestricted fund allow the dean to support professional opportunities for the students. For information, please contact Harriet Bull, director of development and alumni affairs, at hbull@unmfund.org or (505) 272-3657.
The UNM Foundation has made every effort to list our donors accurately and in the manner requested. We regret any errors that may have been made in this publication and would appreciate any corrections, name or title changes or comments regarding your listing via email at marcom@ unmfund.org.

WAYS TO GIVE

To support UNM and our work with students, faculty and patients, please contact the UNM Foundation office:

- (505) 277-4503
- 1-800-UNM-FUND (866-3863) or

For more specific giving opportunities, please see the list of programs and contacts below or refer to the next page.

UNM’s Annual Fund

The Annual Fund campaign solicits gifts from alumni and friends by letter, phone and online. Annual Fund donors may designate their gifts to any area, college, school, department or program within the University or give unrestricted gifts, which are used for the University’s greatest needs. See page 18. Contact Willie Romero at wromero@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9628.

Endowments

Donors establish endowed funds to support a specific purpose in perpetuity. The UNM Foundation invests the funds and uses a portion of the income generated from the principal to provide annual funding. Endowments may include support for scholarships, faculty or programming, and may be funded over a period of years. Currently, the minimum for an endowed fund is $15,000. See page 13. Contact Judith Davenport, jdavenport@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9600.

Presidential Scholarship Program

The Presidential Scholarship Program (PSP) receives gifts as partial or full sponsorship for Presidential Scholars. Currently, a $2,000 gift grants a donor full sponsorship in the PSP. See page 18. Contact Erin Hagenow, ehagenow@unmfund.org or (505) 277-5688.

Giving Societies and Dean’s Circles

Giving societies and dean’s circles receive gifts in support of specific programs or initiatives within the University. Membership and gift thresholds vary by school, college or program (see pages 20-21). Universitywide giving societies include:

The UNM President’s Club, established in 2000, supports presidential initiatives for enhanced academic excellence and student enrichment through unrestricted gifts to the President’s Fund for Academic Excellence. Gifts to the President’s Club can be divided to include a college or school program. See page 19. Contact Rich Grainger, rgrainger@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9077.

Cherry & Silver Society, recognizing alumni who give within 24 months of graduation and then at least once every calendar year thereafter. See page 18. Contact Margaret Montoya, mmontoya@unmfund.org or (505) 277-0689.

New Horizons Society, recognizing donors who have included the University in their estate plans. See page 17. Contact Bart Evans at bevans@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9604.

Tom L. Popejoy Society, recognizing cumulative giving to the University. See page 14. Contact Rich Grainger, rgrainger@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9077.

Memorials and Honorariums

Memorials and honorariums honor family and friends. Contact Jill Slaby, jslaby@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9651.

Planned Giving

The Planned Giving Program provides donors with information and helps establish gifts through bequests, charitable trusts, gift annuities, retirement accounts and life insurance policies. The Foundation’s planned giving experts work closely with the donor’s own advisers to ensure the needs and wishes of the donor are fulfilled. Contact Bart Evans at bevans@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9604.

Gifts of Real Property

The Gift Acceptance Committee of the UNM Foundation reviews gifts of real property, including real estate, works of art, equipment and other in-kind gifts. Contact Bart Evans at bevans@unmfund.org or (505) 277-9604.

Matching Gifts Program

The Matching Gifts Program includes both national and local corporations that match their employees’ gifts to the UNM Foundation dollar-for-dollar, thus enabling donors to double or even triple their gifts. Contact Kirsten Williams, kwilliams@unmfund.org or (505) 277-1655.

Giving Online

Online giving through the Foundation’s secure Web site is an easy three-step process. Log on to www.unmfund.org for giving information.
The following professional staff can answer questions or help craft a gift that matches your wishes and UNM’s needs as a provider of superb education, research, health care and community service.

You may give to the UNM Foundation through unrestricted gifts which are used for the University’s greatest needs or with gifts to a multitude of initiatives within the University’s schools, colleges and programs, including scholarships, dean’s funds, organizations and annual giving campaigns. You also may support events or endow programs, professorships and chairs. Gifts may be offered in a variety of forms including, but not limited to, cash, securities or real property. We encourage you to contact the appropriate staff member to learn more about how you can advance the achievements of UNM students and faculty.
